Dulles Discounts Middle East War at Present

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today he believes chances are against war breaking out in the Middle East.

Dulles said war can be avoided in the tense Middle East area. But he added it would be rash indeed to say there is no risk of war there.

Dulles also told a news conference the United States will welcome any sincere offer by Russia to help bring about peace in the area through the United Nations. He made the statement when asked about a Soviet foreign ministry announcement that the Soviet Union is ready "to assist" in settling the Arab-Israeli dispute.

When that time comes, Dulles said he thinks the U. N. can play considerable role in helping achieve a peaceful settlement. But he emphasized such a settlement is a direct problem for Israel and her Arab neighbors. He said no one should or could force a settlement on them.

The United States meanwhile was understood to be taking new steps to strengthen the Baghdad pact without joining it. Officials said the United States does not plan formally to join the five-nation alliance despite new demands that it do so. But they said it will provide new moral support for the alliance.

This is a cultural co-operative showing that could be adopted to any community, large or small, anywhere that garden members delight in making their homes more beautiful by displaying flowers.

The National Guard Armory is the setting for the flower show that will be lovely and exciting as any bazaar. The show will be open to the public on Friday, April 20th, from 2 p. m. to 8 p. m.

Competition is very keen and interest is so high that whispering is heard from club women all over town. "Don't breathe this to a soul, but OUI arrangement is going to feature, etc."

Just wait and BE SURE you come to see the END of the STORY!

Charity Case Gives Hospital $10,000

MEMPHIS (AP) — Twenty years ago R. J. Linder of Kensett, Ark. was a charity patient at St. Joseph Hospital here. Yesterday he gave the hospital $10,000 for its building fund.

Linder, now owner and president of an oak flooring manufacturing firm, said his check was "in appreciation of the great amount of charity they do at St. Joseph and because they draw no line between Catholic and non-Catholic patients."

The campaign seeks to raise one million dollars. It is successful the Order of the Sisters of St. Francis had pledged an additional million to finance a six-story wing.

Man Found Here Badly Beaten

VICTIM OF a trio of teenagers, two boys and a girl, is Leon C. Benware of Norwich Conn., shown recuperating in Memorial Hospital here. Picked up Sunday beside the Highway Benware told a hectic tale of being kidnapped, robbed and beaten by three youths in a 5-day escapade.

Australian Native, "Sung to Death" by Members of Tribe Can Live Only in an Iron Lung

DARWIN, Australia (AP) — Bewitched Charlie Lya Wulumu has focused attention on the black magic of Australia's aborigines—strong magic casting its shadow even over those mission-educated like Charlie.

The 19-year-old youth, in an iron lung at Darwin Hospital, is breathing through a tube in his chest. The breathing apparatus and injections in his veins keep him alive. Outside the iron lung he can breathe only 15 minutes.

Charlie was "sung to death" by members of his tribe nearly two weeks ago at Yirrkalla Methodist mission, northwest Arnhem Land. The rite was carried out on instructions of his mother-in-law. Her motive was not known here.

Gasp for breath and unable to swallow, Charlie was put in the iron lung six days ago. His case is one of the rare instances where a singing death victim has ever reached a hospital. Usually an aborigine under the death curse of his tribe carries out his sentence on himself—by believing nothing can save him.

Charlie seemed to improve a bit yesterday, calling for food and water for the first time. But when he tried to drink, he almost choked.

Says his doctor: "I still cannot decide whether it's the after-effects of some terrible unknown poison or the fear of the 'death singing' which is constricting his throat and lungs and stopping him from swallowing or breathing."

"The case is fantastic."

Australian authorities and missionaries do what they can to end black magic rites but heinousness has been limited.

UN Envoy Is Due in Israel on Mission

By TED R. LURIE
TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Dag Hammarskjöld, U. N. secretary general, was due in Israel today for the next major phase of his mission to restore peace in the Palestine area.

His task was made a tougher by Israel's demand that Egypt lift all restrictions on Israeli shipping through the Suez Canal. He was reported optimistic, however.

Prior to leaving for Israel, he conferred in Beirut with Lebanese chiefs.

The Israeli border area was comparatively quiet. An Israeli army spokesman said the dining hall of a cement factory six miles from the Jordan border was blown up last night. Vehicle tracks led from Ramleh, scene of the explosion, to the Jordan border, he said.

Latest Cinderella Girl Star, Carroll Baker, Advises Not Accepting Every Role Offered

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — To get ahead in the entertainment world, says Carroll Baker, "you have to be willing to turn down jobs—and eat macaroni."

"Half the problem in building a career is picking worthwhile roles."

It was her willingness to subsist on macaroni until the right part came along that has made Carroll Baker a star at 22. After only two films, she is already in the $50,000 to $75,000 a picture class.

Chances are you never even heard of Carroll Baker, a slender, child-faced beauty who wears no makeup and looks as if she'd just stepped off a Victorian valentine.

Violence Claims Two in Arkansas

By The Associated Press
Two persons died in Arkansas as the result of accidents.

Iron Riggs, a 26-year-old welder, died three hours after he was struck by a falling log while working at the Ozan Lumber Co. plant at Prescott.

Junius Green, 42-year-old McNeil Negro, died at a Camden hospital of injuries suffered Saturday night when he was struck by a car on Highway 79 about 15 miles southwest of Camden.

Beaten Man Is Recovering From Ordeal

Leon C. Benware, 34, of Norwich, Conn., was reported at Memorial Hospital today to be doing very well.

Benware was found on the side of the road just inside Hope City limits early Sunday in a beaten condition. He told officers here of a hectic five days during which he was a prisoner of three teenagers which he had picked up near his home.

He said the three youths, two boys and a girl, forced him at gunpoint to accompany them in his car. He said he was tied up virtually all the way and was unable to escape.

Chief of Police Jack Brown of the local force said today that three youths arrested in Big Springs, Texas, were being investigated to determine whether they were the ones who beat and robbed Benware. He said this will probably be determined today. Otherwise there are no new developments, the officers said.

Runaway Boys Took Their Things

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Danny McElwee, 9, and brother Victor, 11, ran away from home yesterday.

A bus station clerk became suspicious when they tried to buy tickets to Shreveport. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. McElwee, were notified.

A check of the boys' suitcase showed: two baseballs and gloves, a homemade eubetter net, Victor's butterfly collection and a jar of live caterpillars.

That's all.

Hopes for a Couple of Decisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said he hoped to announce two or three policy decisions by the special Senate Judiciary Committee after a secret session today.

He declined to indicate the nature of the decisions in advance of the meeting.

Also up for decision was whether to investigate what Sen. Young (R-ND) has called a charge by political opponents that he "sold out" in voting for a bill to free natural gas producers from direct federal regulation. President Eisenhower vetoed the bill.

Young is requesting the investigation. "All I want to do is clear my name," he said.

McClellan said that at a brief meeting yesterday, committee members discussed Young's request informally, but did not attempt to act on it.

In the wake of charges of lobbying on the Natural Gas Bill, the Senate set up the special bipartisan committee to investigate any improper or illegal attempts to influence senators or other government officials.

McClellan said he thought the committee could start public hearings "in a few weeks."

"We're going to move as fast as we can," he said.

Utah Governor Refuses to Pay Taxes

By HOWARD S. BENEDICT

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The dead line for paying federal income tax passed last midnight, but part of Utah Gov. J. Bracken Lee's tax money rests today in a safe deposit box in a Salt Lake City bank.

"And that's where it will stay," Lee says, "until a court rules that either I or the government have a right to it."

The Republican governor contends it is unconstitutional for the federal government to use tax revenue to aid foreign nations. By refusing to pay his tax he hopes to force a court test of this contention.

"There is no provision anywhere in the Constitution granting the U. S. government the right to appropriate taxpayers' money for support of foreign nations," Lee said, adding he'll "fight" in the Supreme Court, if necessary, to prove his case.

Last week Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey wrote Lee the government would "proceed in the usual manner to collect the taxes" if the governor didn't pay up before the deadline.

Lee said yesterday he believes the "usual manner" might take some time — probably until after the November elections.

"But I'm not going to wait for the government to come to me," he said. "I have my attorneys preparing briefs and I expect to take the case into court in about 50 days. At that time I will ask the government for a declaratory judgment."

Lee filed his income tax return last January but did not enclose the money he owes on earnings other than his salary of $10,000, which is subject to the federal withholding tax. He declined to say how much the "other earnings," mostly from investments, amount to.

Reds Ask British for Shoot to Kill Orders

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

LONDON. — (UP) — Visiting Soviet police have asked Britain to issue "shoot to kill" orders in event of any threat to Nikita S. Khrushchev and Nikolai Bulganin on their visit here, it was reported today.

There was no confirmation or denial of the request from official sources but a sudden wave of anti-Russian incidents made the report seem likely. British police traditionally are unarmed, but can carry pistols on certain assignments.

British police combed lists of known anti-Communist fanatics today in a grim effort to nip any assassination attempts against the Russian Communist party chief and premier. They arrive by ship tomorrow.

Scotland Yard received assurances from leaders of 250,000 Iron Curtain refugees in Britain there would be no violence.

But it is the small percentage of extreme fanatics that has made both Britain and Russian officials clamp on the tightest security regulations in the island's history.

Officials voiced frank alarm at an attempt to burn down the Soviet Tass news agency offices in Fleet street and the paint splattering of the new Karl Marx monument in Highgate cemetery Sunday night.

They still had no clue to the identity of anonymous callers who said "acts of hate" are starting against the Soviet leaders.

Russian Ambassador Jacob Malik called on the foreign office to discuss the Tass incident yesterday Moscow radio also denounced it.

As the Russian leaders were sighted steaming around Denmark in their cruiser, Ordzhonikidze, Scotland yard set its final security briefing for today.

Yesterday they screened more than 1,400 persons living in the neighborhood of Claridge's Hotel where the Russian visitors will stay. They visited every apartment and office in the area, listing every window overlooking the hotel and taking down hundreds of names.

The hotel itself was combed inch-by-inch.

The entire vast naval base at Portsmouth on the South coast, some 70 miles from London, will be sealed like a tomb when the big Russian cruiser pulls in there tomorrow. Only a carefully-screened group of newsmen will witness the arrival.

The train carrying Bulganin and Khrushchev to London will take a circuitous route which has not been disclosed.

The admiralty refused to take any responsibility for chartered planes which some news gathering organizations planned to fly over the Ordzhonikidze as it nears the British coast.

The admiralty would not guarantee the planes would not be fired upon and warned that anyone making the trip would do so at his own risk.

The London Committee of Free Representatives of Central and Eastern European Countries promised refugee bodeis would behave themselves and not embarrass the British government during the 10-day Russian visit.

But Scotland Yard already has learned details of many protest demonstrations.

The Latvian National Council, representing 2,000 Latvians living in Britain, proclaimed they would go into mourning during the visit.

Meyer's to Open New Bakery at Monahans, Texas, Three Local Men Get Promotions

Expansion of Meyer's Baking firm into West Texas has brought about sweeping personnel changes in which three local men have received promotions. It was announced by Charles Meyer Jr., with the firm's general offices in Little Rock.

Jess Gilliam of Hope has been promoted to district general manager of the firm's plant at Hope, Texas, and a new plant in Monahans, Texas.

The announcement was also made that Jim Tate will manage the Hope plant and Carl Howell of Hope will move to Monahans to manage the new plant. Both will be under Mr. Gilliam. Vincent Lucas is manager of the Texarkana plant.

Rapid development of Meyer's "Brown 'n' Serve" rolls made the expansion necessary. Primarily developed for marketing at the Hope plant Meyer's "Brown 'n' Serve" business has had a remarkable growth. The Hope and Blytheville, Ark., plants are now serving over 80 bakeries in 15 states with the "Brown 'n' Serve" product. The local plant presently operates seven tractors and trailers to deliver the rolls to bakeries in Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas as well as in Arkansas.

The Blytheville plant, managed by R. H. Watson, serves customers in states north and east of Blytheville.

The new plant in Monahans, expected to be in operation by May 15, will be exclusively "Brown 'n' Serve" production and will serve the organization's customers in West Texas and allow expansion of the territory to include Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado.

House Group Study Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee sets out today to blend President Eisenhower's civil rights recommendations with some of its own into a bill for House consideration.

In an interview prior to the secret session, Chairman Celler (D-NY) said he is sure the committee will approve Eisenhower's 4-point program "as a minimum." But Celler said he will insist on "a good deal more being included."

Eisenhower called last week for creation of a bipartisan civil rights commission, a special division in the Department of Justice to handle protection of civil rights, and statute changes enabling the government to move through federal civil court actions against civil rights violations.

Cells author of omnibus bill including not only specific provisions against racial segregation in interstate transportation, and criminal penalties for a variety of acts such as interfering with voting by intimidation.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, which is considered a major hurdle in the path of civil rights legislation, said yesterday "hearings on Eisenhower's and all other pending proposals will be held soon. Chairman Eastland (D-Miss) said the exact date has not yet been set.

Defense Says Maj. Holohan Killed by Reds

By YKARL R. BAUMANQ

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal court jury trying Aldo L. Icardi on perjury charges was ready to listen to the defense version of what happened to Maj. William V. Holohan behind enemy lines in Italy Dec. 6, 1944.

The prosecution's version is that Icardi, then an Army lieutenant second in command of a clerk and dagger mission headed by Holohan, directed the poisoning and shooting of the major. The government presented its opening statement yesterday.

Icardi 34, now a Pittsburgh real estate broker, is accused of falsely swearing before a House Armed Services subcommittee that he had no hand in Holohan's death. The maximum penalty for perjury is five years in prison.

Yesterday, Victor C. Woorheide, the chief prosecutor, said Icardi talked often of having "got rid" of Holohan.

Lack of Water in Big Supply Industrial Bar

From Texarkana Gazette
The International Paper Company, which will build a plant at Pine Bluff that will employ about 1450 persons, looked the Texarkana area over and moved on because it did not have sufficient water.

This was cited as one of the reasons why the city of Texarkana must be interested in the Southwest Arkansas Water District's efforts to have water stored in Millwood Dam.

Charles Conway, president of the water district told the Optimist Club Wednesday at Hotel Grim that the people of Texarkana must not overestimate the water supply in the Texarkana Reservoir, to the extent that they will be indifferent to the outcome of the Millwood controversy.

The Texarkana Reservoir will provide 13 million gallons of water per day for the city of Texarkana. This city already is using a maximum of six million gallons on a hot summer day.

Engineers have estimated that by 1975, Texarkana will need every drop of the 13 millions for urban use.

Conway said the Texarkana Reservoir might sustain municipal growth for a time, but it will not also support any great degree of agricultural and industrial growth.

The International Paper Company's plant at Springhill, La., uses 25 million gallons of water a day, five times the amount used by the whole city of Texarkana in the extreme weather, he said. This is nearly twice the amount that has been allocated to Texarkana out of the Texarkana Reservoir.

If Texarkana hopes to attract industries of such size it must find more water, and Millwood is a potential source, he said.

If the farmers in the Texarkana and Southwest Arkansas area are to compete favorably with the big agricultural areas they must go more thoroughly into irrigation, and a Millwood with a daily storage of 40 million gallons would provide the necessary water, he said.

Conway said the U. S. Engineers have said that it is engineeringly feasible to put water behind the Millwood Dam, and it is the purpose of the water district to ask the federal government to do this.

Millwood would represent a constant supply for the people of the area in which it would be located, he said.

Upstream interests, who oppose any kind of Millwood, have said Texarkana and other South-

Predicts Veto Will Be Upheld by Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders called on the Democrats today to rally behind President Eisenhower's new soil bank proposal if they really want to help the American farmer. The GOP leadership issued this call at a White House news conference following their weekly meeting with the President. Key Democrats in Congress, meanwhile, were reacting coldly to the Eisenhower proposal.

GOP Senate Leader Knowland and House Republican Leader Martin forecast that the President's veto of the Democratic sponsored farm bill will be upheld by substantial margins.

Martin said he sees "a bare possibility" a majority of House members will back the President's stand in a vote scheduled tomorrow.

Knowland said the Senate could pass a soil bank bill, as the President requested, in his veto message, within a week or two. Martin said the House could do so in a single day.

The GOP Senate leader said he thinks many Democrats will back the President's proposal once the "temporary flurry" over the veto has passed.

"I can't believe that purely for political purposes they would now turn around and oppose something they have already approved," Knowland said.

Eisenhower in a nationwide television and radio broadcast last night explaining his veto insisted that politics had not entered into his decision.

"I will always resist any attempt to make the farmer and his problems a political football," he said.

Lack of Water

West Arkansas: towns can buy water from the six proposed upstream dams which would provide 5 million gallons of water daily. But Conway pointed out Wednesday that they would have first choice on this water, as they should, and Texarkana and Southwest Arkansas would have to compete for what was left.

The upstream interests have suggested that this area could draw water off of a running stream, but Conway said this would not guarantee a controlled constant supply, whereas a Millwood Reservoir would.

Contempt Charge Is Dropped

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — An indictment charging contempt of Congress against college professor Lee Lorch has been dismissed by District Federal Judge Lester J. Cecil.

Lorch, who lives at Little Rock, was indicted for refusing to answer questions at hearings before a House un-American Activities Committee here in September, 1954. At the time Lorch was a professor at Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn. He now teaches mathematics at Philander Smith College at Little Rock.

Robbery Charged to Two Arkansans

GREENVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Two men from Little Rock, Ark., have been charged with the attempted robbery of 75-year-old John Bohannon, a wealthy Greenville businessman.

Police Chief A. L. Shepherd said John H. Knox, 46, and Ted Otis, 70, were booked on armed robbery and burglary charges.

They were arrested in Bohannon's house early Sunday.

Knox and Otis wouldn't talk about the affair except to say that they had read newspaper accounts of a robbery last summer in which three men pistol-whipped Bohannon and took $75,000 from him.

Shepherd said date for a preliminary hearing for the two men hadn't been set.

DOROTHY DIX

Know-it-all Always Unpopular Too Young For Servicemen Married Boy Friend No Solution

Dear Dorothy Dix: My boy friend, Warren, seems to be drifting away from me. He used to tell me he loved me every time I ask him but now when I ask, he gets mad at me. He gets mad, too, when I ask him where he's gone or what has he been doing.

Also, I seem to be losing all my popularity at school. Whenever I try to tell the other kids a better way of doing something, they ignore me. I used to be quite popular, but lately I'm never asked to join the other kids. Please help.

UNCERTAIN

Dear Uncertain: You certainly have every rule of unpopularity down pat. A girl of your intelligence should have sense enough to get herself back on the right track.

No one — but absolutely no one — can be as unanimously disliked as the female who "knows it all." You can violate every rule in the advertisers' handbook — use the wrong lipstick, wash with the "other brand" soap, refuse to join book clubs, or overlook important sprays and lotions — and keep friends. But woe betide you when you start to tell them what to do, how to live, and butt into their personal affairs.

Come now, be a nice girl. get back on the beam and into the right perspective. Stop asking Warren if he loves you; let him get the idea himself. Start a do-it-yourself project of reformation and by the time you're a senior, you'll be accepted back into the human race.

Dear Miss Dorothy Dix: I am a very young girl (14) but deep down in my heart I believe in love. I started writing to a boy overseas about two months ago and haven't heard the first word from him. Do you think I should keep writing to him?

ANITA
Dear Anita: You seem a little too young to kindle the fires of interest in a serviceman. Of course you believe in love, but it may be a bit too soon to cultivate it.

Why not try corresponding with a contemporary, perhaps from a foreign land? Send a self-addressed stamped envelope and I'll be happy to send you the names of some pen-pal groups.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am 38, married with two children, and in love with a fellow who is also married and has four children. We are both unhappy. He doesn't want to leave his wife because of the children, and I have an ailing husband. I cry myself to sleep every night. Is it worth it?

K. M.
Dear K. M.: You need bucking up — but not by another woman's husband who regards you only as a safe diversion. Caring for a sick husband and two children is not an easy or glamorous life, but it is more rewarding than breaking up a couple of homes. An easy conscious sleeps well — and without tears.

Farmers Will Decide Who Is to Blame

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Who struck John?

In this case the farmers are John. They'll have to decide in this presidential election year whether to blame Democrats or Republicans for in their income, particularly if it keeps going down.

Within the past 24 hours—with Democrats and Republicans both aching for the farm vote—farmers have become a roaring campaign issue in a series of events which may leave them scratching their heads.

1. President Eisenhower vetoed the farm bill passed by the Democratic-run Congress with the help of farm state Republicans. The Democrats said this bill was just what the farmers needed to bail them out.

2. Immediately the Democrats began trying to make political capital of the veto. They said Eisenhower himself had dealt the farmers a "direct blow" and that he would have to take "full blame" for the farmers' troubles.

3. Eisenhower struck back in a nationwide broadcast last night, blaming Congress for giving him a bill which he said he had to veto as a matter of conscience because it would do more harm than good.

This was one of the few times in Eisenhower's three White House years when, by direct action of his own, he risked losing a vast chunk of personal popularity, as he will if the farmers now blame him for their plight.

He made it clear he knew he was taking a political chance by acknowledging he had been told "what a risky thing in an election year to veto this bill."

Besides the farm-state Republicans who voted for the bill, three farm state Republican governors flew here to urge him to sign it and two farm organizations favored the measure: the National Grange and the National Farmers Union. A third group, the American Farm Bureau, opposed it. So did Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Eisenhower, who has had some experience in generalship, refused to let the Democrats put him on the defensive, or at last entirely on the defensive.

The bill passed by this Democratic-run Congress would have restored high, rigid supports. Although vetoing the Democrats' high support bill, Eisenhower at the same time announced he was going to increase price supports—although not up to the Democrats' figure—to give farmers an additional 600 million dollars in benefits this year.

Democrats hooted at this reasoning. Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said Eisenhower had the authority to raise prices any time since becoming president but does it now "after farmers have lost three billion dollars."

But Eisenhower wrapped a challenge around the Democrats' necks, knowing the farmers would be watching to see what happened.

He urged Congress to pass this year a soil bank program that would pay farmers for cutting down on production by withdrawing acreage from surplus crops.

He said it would be passed with a provision for part payments when farmers sign contracts, give farmers up to 500 million dollars additional this year.

Now it's up to the farmers to figure out who hit them, if anybody, or whether they knocked themselves out by overproducing.

Japan has 6½ million farmers.

Two Escape in Plane Crash

JONESBORO (AP) — Two Air Force officers escaped without injury here yesterday when their T-33 jet trainer in for an emergency landing in an opening field.

Lt. Col. Donovan Kimbrough, 37, a native of the little Clark County town of Hollywood, said the plane was damaged only slightly.

Kimbrough said the plane had a "flameout"—jet engine failure—and he was forced to land.

His companion on the flight was Maj. John Dorger, 32, of Cincinnati, O. They were headed for Lockbourne AFB at Columbus, O., from Little Rock AFB.

COOPERATIVE PLAN

DUNCANVILLE, Tex., (UP) — Officials at the Air Force radar station here awaited approval today of a plan to cooperate with the city fire department in fighting fires.

Air Force and city firemen have been working on the plan two months. Things were delayed, however, when their first meeting had to be postponed because a fire was burning at the local high school gymnasium.

A plant you have is worth 100 prospects in New York

The best new industry for your community may be right in your own back yard. When a town like Mena, population 4,445 can raise $110,000 in 14 days to expand an existing industry perhaps you should look into that industry you already have in your home town to see what you can do to help it along. (And that's not all about Mena, last year they raised $145,000 to get that industry.) Take a look around, there may be some good people in your town that need help in expanding an existing industry, or in developing a wholly new industry. Give them your attention and interest. The AIDC, the University of Arkansas Industrial Research Center in Little Rock, and other industrial development agencies in the state stand ready to help.

Temple Texas
A native of Lewisville, Ark., is currently making a big hit in Broadway musical, "Pipe Dream." She is Dora Jane Temple whose stage name is Miss Temple Texas and whose father is C. O. Temple of Hope.

Her first job was model for Nieman-Marcus of Dallas. Seems she was modeling in the famous store and Stanley Marcus saw her and offered her a job. She accepted. Some time later she went to New York and modeled for Harry Conover and became a showgirl. They gave her the name of Temple Texas because she had worked in that state. And for a publicity gag she ran for Governor of Texas and received 1,200 votes without even campaigning.

She appeared in "The Seven Lively Arts", Billy Rose's famous musical then got married and left New York for five years. Returning to the big city she got a very important part in "Pipe Dream" and is being widely acclaimed for her acting ability as well as her good looks. Miss Temple is a big girl, exactly six feet tall, other measurements being 39-26 1/2-37.

She is pictured above getting ready to go on stage in "Pipe Dream" as a real actress and not just a showgirl. It was her first real chance and from all reports that's all she needed.

bride comes" to emotional maturity in an atmosphere of middle-aged arson and young grace.

The success of the 1 1/2 million-dollar production is almost sure to depend on how well the public likes Carroll's performance as the bewildered, thumb-sucking young bride.

But Kazan was so taken with her acting, he immediately signed her for another film—an unusual step for him. And Warner Bros. put her under contract for four more to be made in the next six years.

That's as many as Miss Baker, who has a clear and stubborn head on her young shoulders, wants to be bound to.

"It isn't the number of productions you're in that counts," she said. "The important thing is to be in the right thing, with the right director."

Carroll, the daughter of a traveling salesman turned farmer, was born in Johnstown, Pa. She started her career as a dancer at 11. On one of her later jobs on TV, she doubled as weather announcer. One night she lost her cue cards and, while trying to improvise the weather from memory, she announced:

"There is a lot of air blowing in from Texas."

This impromptu observation left Miss Baker at liberty at once to take up the serious study of acting, which she did.

She made her Broadway debut in "Escapee," and first won critical attention in "All Summer Long." Later she auditioned for Jack Garfin, a young stage director, and he signed her soon after to a lifetime role as his wife.

Both she and her husband share a serious interest in the drama that goes beyond the opportunity for making a fast buck.

"I turned down film scripts for eight months before I thought the Now she and her husband are moving from their cramped apartment to a larger one on the upper East Side. They eat out whenever they want to—and they don't have to order macaroni unless they really want it.

"But it's still a treat to eat out," said Carroll, her baby doll expression crinkling in a smile, "because it's certainly no treat to eat at home—not when I do the cooking."

A TRIBUTE TO OUR HOSPITALS!

Someone once said that all well people should visit a hospital occasionally to see how fortunate they are! When a friend of loved one is being tenderly cared for in one of our hospitals, then we understand the great importance of these institutions. Staffed with doctors, nurses, internes and all manner of life-saving equipment, the hospital is mercy headquarters for all who are suffering. We never cease to wonder at the modern miracles performed in our hospitals. Their works go largely unheralded. But their eagerness to bind up wounds and make men whole again goes on forever. What would we do without these havens of healing?

Release of Films to TV Not a Grab-bag

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Have you ever wondered how a Hollywood motion picture reaches your television screen?

Sometimes it looks as if somebody reaches in a grab-bag of old films and slapped the first one he found on the home screen. Actually there's much more to it than that.

Ralph M. Cohn, vice president and general manager of Screen Gems, television subsidiary of Columbia Pictures, described in detail the other day some of the main—and the profit—involved in release of Hollywood films to the nation's TV stations.

When Columbia announced its decision to release 10 old films through Screen Gems several weeks ago, it was the result of more than a year of planning and research by a large staff. The fundamental decision was whether more profit was to be found in TV release than in motion picture theatre reruns and remakes.

Information and opinion about a large number of films from movie distributors, TV distributors, individual TV stations and numerous other sources over a long period of time were carefully collated and weighed. Meanwhile, about a year ago a large staff of lawyers and assistants began investigating the legal rights involved in films proposed for TV distribution.

This is such a complicated situation it's difficult to describe. Involved are the rights of actors, directors, writers, composers. Some actors, for example, had contracts stating that films in which they appeared could not be shown on TV at hours when they had regularly scheduled TV appearances. Other actors' contracts forbade TV film showings—and their permissions had to be obtained.

In many cases story rights were even more complicated, involving renewable copyrights and tracing the heirs of deceased authors. The same problems existed in the case of musical rights.

IGHTHAM, England (UP)—The gty this Monaco brought only sadness today to a quiet village pub where the pretender to Prince Rainier's throne tends bar.

"I know that this marriage cuts away one more chance of my regaining the throne," said George Grimaldi as he slid a tangle of suds across the mahogany.

Grimaldi, also known as Marquis Grimaldi, is the latest in a branch of Rainier's family which claims the sixth Marquis Alexander Grimaldi was forced from the Monagasque throne illegally in 1905.

"I would press my claim but it would cost too much money," the bartender said in an interview at the bar of the Chequeux Inn.

"I can only wait," Grimaldi had high hopes of retaining the throne during the long years of Rainier's bachelorhood. He thought that if Rainier died without an heir, the people of Monaco might call him to the throne. The prince's marriage to Grace Kelly makes it likely there will be an heir.

"If I were there it would be hard to keep silent while Miss Kelly is becoming wrongful princess of Monaco," he said.

The Marquis, tall, 47, did not harbor any ill feeling against Miss Kelly.

"She is a lovely girl and should make a lovely princess," he said. Grimaldi's wife, Kathleen, who helps behind the bar, was less enthusiastic.

"Who knows," she mused, "there but the Grace of Kelly go I."

TOKYO, (UP)—The United States and Japan signed an agreement today to rebuild the Japanese aircraft industry.

America will shoulder most of the cost.

Gen. Laurence S. Kuter, Far East Air Forces commander, and Keiichi Masuhara, vice director general of the defense agency, signed the document.

It provides for Japan to expand the production of jets here to 300 during the next two years.

The United States will furnish tooling, raw materials, components and parts.

But the Japanese government under the terms of the agreement which will be completed in June 1958, eventually will assume production of these items.

NEMURO, NORTHERN Japan, (UP)—Sixty-two Japanese fishermen captured off the Kuriles by Soviet gunboats last month were released suddenly last night.

They left behind them in the Kuriles eight fishing boats confiscated by the Russians and the captains of seven of the vessels who were sentenced to two-to-three year prison terms for "illegal entry" and "poaching."

BUENOS AIRES, (UP)—Eight-thousand ship construction workers went on a 48-hour strike here and in La Plata yesterday in protest against the dismissal of 100 workers of the Argentine overseas navigation company.

Lana Can Now Call Career Her Very Own

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For the first time in 17 years, Lana Turner can call her career her own. And she's never been happier.

Lana got sprung from her long exclusive contract with MGM after months of campaigning. She still owes the studio five pictures in the next five years, but otherwise she's a free agent.

"And does it feel wonderful?" she enthused over lunch in a Hollywood hideaway. "At last I can read scripts from other studios—I've been going through a stack this high at home. And I can talk about my own deals, instead of doing what the studio tells me to do."

For some time Lana had been unhappy about a few things at the studio. For one thing, she never did a picture off the lot in her first 15 years there.

"I didn't even get to see the scripts that were offered to me from the outside," she remarked. "The studio turned them down for me."

"Finally, I made a big pitch to be allowed to do 'The Sea Chase.' I argued that it would do me a lot of good to be teamed in a picture with John Wayne."

"I finally convinced them. I'm sorry the picture didn't turn out as well as people had hoped, but at least it set the precedent. And it led to another loan-out, 'The Rains of Ranchipur.'"

Lana made no bones about her dissatisfaction with her last two pictures at MGM, expensive turkey called "The Prodigal" and "Diane."

"I argued with them that I was not the kind of a girl who should be in costume pictures," she said.

"Look—I'm a modern-type girl. The good pictures I've done, 'Postman Always Rings Twice,' 'The Bad and the Beautiful,' perhaps 'Rains of Ranchipur'—should have proven that."

"But they wanted me to do costume pictures. So I did the best I could—and took the blame for them."

Lana enters the free-lance market at the best possible time. Stars with big names can just about write their own ticket at any studio in town. And the name of Lana Turner still stands for the epitome of glamour in the movie world. She offered some hint of how she has stayed that way.

"When I started in pictures, there was still an air of mystery about the stars. Garbo was still working then, and Norma Shearer and Joan Crawford were still telling all about yourself, of withholding something of yourself from the public."

Sen. Young May Get His Investigation

By JOHN CHADWICK

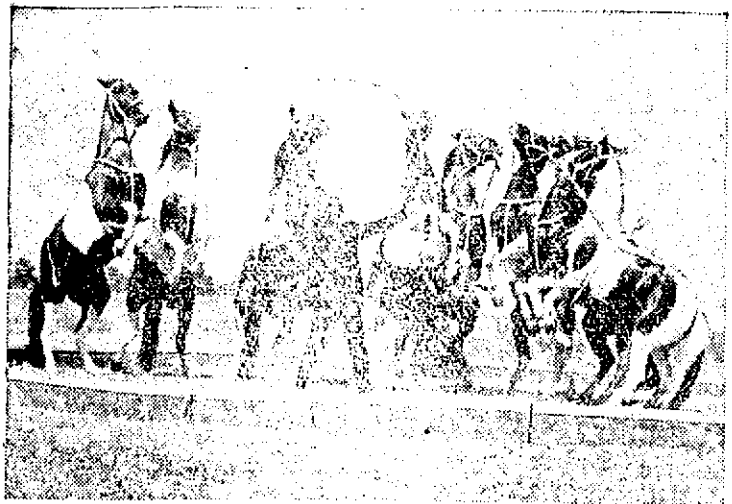

WASHINGTON (AP) — A request from Sen. Young (R-ND) for an investigation of what he called charges that he "sold out" to natural gas interests comes before the special Senate Lobby Committee for consideration today.

Young, who is seeking re-election this year, laid the charges to political opponents and said, "All I want to do is clear my name."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said he would bring up the matter at a closed meeting of the committee. "I think the committee will want to look into it," McClellan said.

Fulbright Not a Man to Miss Opportunity

BY GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) is not a man to miss an opportunity.

He grabbed one the other day to get a promise from an executive of International Paper Co. to look into the possibility of putting a big plant in northwest Arkansas.

It came about when John F. Howden, a vice president of the company, called on Fulbright to tell him of the firm's plans for a new 57 million dollar paper mill near Pine Bluff.

Fulbright said he was delighted at the news and promptly sought to sell Howden on the idea of an other plant in northwest Arkansas where there is an abundance of hardwoods.

Howden showed interest and said that while the company the TVA's authority to use it couldn't do anything about it immediately, he would look into the idea.

Howden said a plant utilizing hardwoods could turn out 100,000 tons of paper a year for the area. His company already has a plant in the area.

The Pine Bluff plant will utilize southern pine to produce newsprint and bleached kraft board. The plant would produce 100,000 tons of paper a year for the area.

Howden said he was interested in expanding his power facilities. There has been some talk over the TVA's authority to use it.

Grace Is Only Star in Story of Monaco

By ALVIN J. STEINKOPF

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Actress Grace Kelly was the unrivaled star of the Riviera today as the town drew near for the first of her two wedding ceremonies with Monaco's Prince Rainier III.

The Prince took the groom's name and the bride's name.

The civil marriage ceremony will be held tomorrow, followed by the religious service Thursday.

Last night was given over to a day-long wedding girl talk.

Grace was hostess to her bridesmaids at a gay party in Rainier's palace, the Prince, who is living at his villa until after the wedding.

The ceremony was strictly for the press.

Rainier also was in the background at yesterday's rehearsal for the religious ceremony. He took an active part while Grace and her mother Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia went through the rehearsal motions.

THE STORY: Malcolm Hazard defends Cristina Lash against his other's accusation that the young woman is not what she seems to be. Alice Hazard, his mother, believes John Hazard, her husband, was investigating Cristina before his death ten days ago. Jean Cushing, who had been fond of Malcolm, has suggested that John's death was murder, not an accident.

CHAPTER VIII

Alice said: "Suppose Professor Lash did have unsavory political associations; wouldn't the daughter be involved, too? Wouldn't that explain why your father kept notes about her activities? How else can you explain the fact that those committee would grant his request. 'I don't see how they can refuse me a hearing,' he told newsmen.

But the political newspaper against which he complained continued Young has threatened to file a libel suit against it. An official of the publishing company wired McClellan that Senate rules 'provide that a matter involved in litigation will not be investigated.'

The newspaper is the Leader, organ of the North Dakota Nonpartisan League, which switched this year from Republican to Democratic affiliation.

The telegram to McClellan said: 'Your committee should not countenance such an abuse of civil process by permitting the senator (Young) to force the Leader Publishing Co. to perform a dress rehearsal of its defense to the impending libel action.'

notes have vanished? The string was carefully retied around the envelope as if the notes were still inside. Obviously someone stole the contents of that green envelope after your father died or just before. Who could do that except Miss Lash herself?

Malcolm was shaken. "Couldn't this name on the envelope refer to another Miss Lash?"

"That would be a preposterous coincidence. Malcolm, could your father possibly have known that you knew Cristina?"

Slowly Malcolm shook his head. "I don't see how. I never mentioned her to him."

"Could someone else have told him?"

"I suppose Jean Cushing might. It was only up here, that week in May, that I really got to know Cristina. She might have mentioned me in a letter to Jean and Jean might have told Father."

"Has Cristina lived at Blake all her life?"

"No. Her father was a widower when he came to Blake 10 years ago. She was at boarding school then and she went to another college. She was graduated last June. It was last September when she came to live with her father at Blake."

"Then it's only for the last 10 months that this young woman has been known at Blake as the daughter of Professor Lash?"

"What are you getting at?"

"I want to see Professor Lash this afternoon. I tried to talk to him about Cristina. He could hardly speak at all. Finally, with great effort, he managed to utter four words: 'She's not my daughter.'"

"Are you trying to say that she is an impostor? That she has a real daughter who has never appeared at Blake? That's fantastic!"

"The Physics Department at Blake was engaged in research for the government. Each member had access to classified documents. If that were anticipated by a few months..."

"You're suggesting that Cristina was a foreign agent planted there?" Malcolm was indignant.

"It's possible," insisted Alice.

"Who would suspect her of not being Miss Lash when her own father acknowledged her?"

"Hold on a minute!" cried Malcolm. "You forget that every member of the Physics Department and their families at Blake were investigated by the FBI. That's when Lash was dropped as a bad risk. They couldn't have missed Cristina if she'd been an impostor, could they?"

"I suppose not, but... what other explanation is there for those curious words? 'She's not my daughter?' They meant something important to him — something he wanted to tell me."

"His mind was wandering."

"I had an impression his trouble is physical rather than mental. Do you realize that since his stroke Cristina could make him her prisoner if she wished? This would make him ideal 'cover' for a foreign agent who wanted to pass as an American."

"I don't believe a word of it," Malcolm spoke stoutly but his eyes were troubled. "I agree it can't be coincidence that Father was collecting information about a woman named Lash. Jean Cushing must have told Father some silly story about my falling for a girl named Lash and that was the only reason Father collected information about her."

"I could be the other way around," said Alice. "Cristina contrived to scrape acquaintance with you because she knew your father was collecting information about her."

"How could Cristina know Father was collecting information about her?"

"There's often a leakage in these cases — some clerk or stenographer lets an unguarded word slip after three Martinis. Cristina had to find out how much your father knew. She had met you at Blake. To further the acquaintance, she rented the cottage near your summer home and deliberately engineered an accidental meeting on the train."

Malcolm frowned. "Even supposing all this were possible, what did she want up here? Just stealing Father's notes about her wouldn't do her any good. Father knew what was in the notes and as long as he was around..."

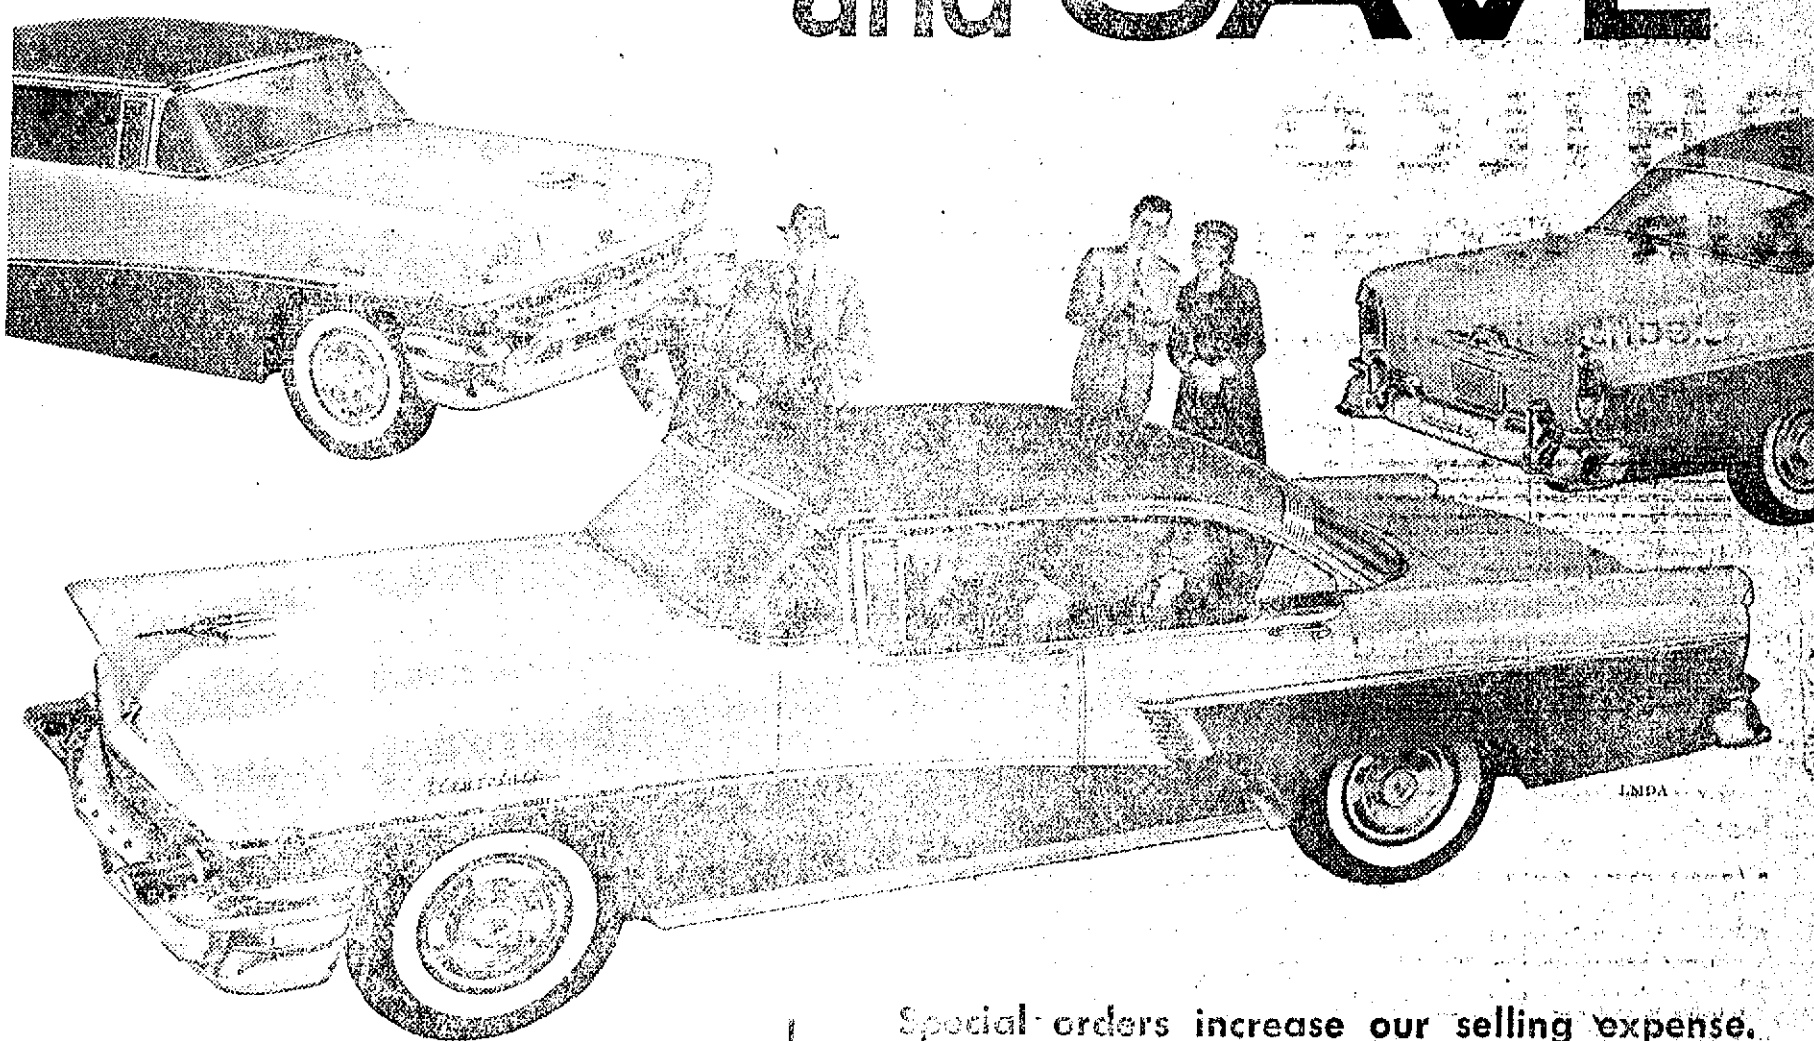

"Exactly!"

"Mother!"

"Think a minute. It doesn't take

Apparently Jockey
to Go for $64,000

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — When Jockey Billy Pearson shows up for the $64,000 question TV show in New York tonight he'll have California artist Millard Sheets by his side.

This doesn't necessarily mean that Billy will go for the $64,000, but Pearson and Sheets have been friends for several years.

"Billy rode one of my 2-year-olds, Gala Mac, at Hollywood Park," Sheets said last night before flying East. "When he discovered I was an artist he bounded me for information. He is very well posted. I'm frank to say I couldn't have answered some of the questions he answered."

Which team got the better of the deal that sent Larry Doby to Chicago and Chico Carquest to Cleveland last winter? Can rookie Luis Aparicio fill Carrasquel's shoes at shortstop for the White Sox?

These were some of the questions confronting managers today as the 1956 major league season got under way in eight cities.

Although tabbed as heavy favorites to meet again in the World Series, the Yankees and Dodgers, like the 14 other clubs, are beset with problems. The Yankees are vulnerable at shortstop and in the relief department. Their biggest headache may come from their strongest department — the outfield. Although Mickey Mantle has given promise this spring of fulfilling his tremendous potential, there is a constant concern over his damaged legs.

Hank Bauer, still not fully recovered from the groin injury that cut short his World Series action, is playing despite a specialist's orders to rest for an entire season.
Should either an outfielder be made forever postoperative of the Birmingham at Atlanta and Nashville at Chattanooga games. The Vols and the Lookouts scheduled a doubleheader tonight.

Little Rock's only run was unearned as righthander Bill DuFour scattered seven hits. The Travelers wouldn't have placed a man on third except for two overthrows to first. Best the Travelers did under their own power was Russ Burns' lead-off double in the ninth.

The Chicks pecked away at Joe Tully for 13 hits, including a homer and a triple by Gibb Dickens and three doubles by John Romano.

Before the season started, New Orleans Manager Andy Cohen said he felt the 25-year old Powers would be better this season than last, when the husky 6-foot-6 batted 29 homers. Powers seems to be ready now to start living up to his manager's hopes.

Mobile's $60,000 bonus pitcher,
Billy Joe Davidson, kept the Pels under control until the sixth inning, allowing only three hits, one a two-run homer by Emil Panko in the first.

Neither games was a success at the gate. Only 634 chilled fans turned out in Little Rock and 782 in New Orleans.

most having to leap to land
blows, easily disposed of a tall
George Parmentier in the third

Moore, weighing in at 193, dropped the 285-pound, 8-foot-5-inch giant from Eureka, Calif.,
three times in the third round.
The referee called the fight after Parmentier twice had taken the compulsory eight count.

Major Leagues
Open Baseball
Season Today

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Will Brooklyn
dash from the barrier for 10 straight, as it did last year? Did the Yankees pick up pennant insurance when they got southpaw ton? Are the Boston Red Sox improved sufficiently to wrest the

Won't Comment

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—R. E.
Ritchie, president of Arkansas Power & Light Co., declined to comment today on the state Supreme Court's ruling against his firm's bid for a rate increase.

Ritchie said AP&L attorneys were reading the court's opinseveral days before the firm decides its next step.

Background on Trouble in Middle East

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any war in the Middle East—springing out of Arab resentment of the Jews of Israel and the West—will have its roots in nationalism and memories that go back beyond World War I.

The Mediterranean is at Israel's back. On all other sides it is surrounded by Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon. All four fought the Israelis in 1948.

Britain and France dominated that area between the end of World War I and the end of World War II and reluctantly let go. The British held on Egypt went back even further.

When World War I began the Turkish Empire included what has become Lebanon, Syria, Palestine and Jordan. Britain and France, to win over the Arabs when Turkey got into the war on Germany's side, promised freedom to the Arabs if Turkey lost. Turkey lost.

The League of Nations then gave Britain and France a mandate — control — over what had been Turkish territory.

The French got Lebanon and Syria granted them independence in 1920, but didn't get out.

The British got a mandate over Palestine and what is now Jordan but didn't give Jordan independence until 1946. The British didn't get out of Palestine until 1948.

Meanwhile, the Jews, who had not had a majority in Palestine since the Romans defeated them in 70 A. D., began in the 20th century to demand that Palestine be made a Jewish homeland. In 1917 the British said they looked favorably on the idea.

The British did nothing to make it a reality. When Jews swarmed into Palestine to escape Hitler's persecutions in the 1930s, the Arabs were alarmed.

Came World War II which weakened the French and British.
France got out of Lebanon and Syria in 1946. Britain let Jorda declare independence the same year but retained military ties with the Jordanians. In 1947 the United Nations voted to divide Palestine into two states: One Arab, the other Jewish.

The Arabs protested this creation of a Jewish state where none had existed for 1,600 years. The British were getting out of Palestine. On May 14, 1948, the Jews there declared the republic of Israel.

Syria, Jordan, Egypt and Leban-

In that was the outnumbered
Israelis — there are about 1,600,

Pavement Collapses Under an Automobile

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — I. C. Sprague, Odessa, Tex., his wife and their 8-year-old son Ronny stepped their car for a red light at busy intersection in downtown Albuquerque.

"You've run into a chuck hole," Mrs. Sprague said. "Wasn't a chuck hole when I stepped," argued Sprague. "There's one now," Mrs. Sprague insisted, "and the car is sinking."

As the three leaped from the car, a section of pavement slowly collapsed, dropping the car eight feet to the bottom. No one was injured.

A city street department official said the collapse may have been due to a leaky sewer which slowly carried the dirt away from under the pavement.

Court Awards Estate to Widow, Son

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today awarded the estate of the late Virgil Finley Graham of Pine Bluff, Ark., to his widow and an adopted son, Virgil Hill, also known as Virgil F. Graham Jr.

When Graham died Oct. 20, 1954, he left a will which did not mention a wife or child.

Personal property later inventoried at around $30,000 was left to Mrs. Hazel Rafferty Lemons of Pine Bluff, except for a bequest of $4,000 to a sister-in-law, Mrs. Elnora Graham of Malvern, Ark., and bequests of $1,000 each to Mrs. Virginia Rafferty Spence and Mrs. Hazel Simpson King, both of Pine Bluff.

Mrs. Ada May Graham, now of Clayton, Mo., and Hill, who lives at Pine Bluff, intervened and claimed the estate as the widow and adopted child of Graham. They were upheld by Jefferson Probate Court, which said Hill was entitled to the entire estate subject to the dower right of Mrs. Graham. The Supreme Court affirmed the probate court.

Mrs. Graham testified that she and Graham were married in Illinois in 1907. The separated in 1933 said the collapse may have been a ruse certificate was introduced in evidence.

The Supreme Court said it was "conclusively shown" that the couple had adopted Virgil F. Graham Jr., who later had his name changed to Hill.

AP&L Refunds Likely to Be in June, July

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — It may be June or July before the 292,000 customers of Arkansas Power & Light Co. receive refunds as a result of today's decision by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court upheld the Arkansas Public Service Commission in rejecting the firm's application for a $4,200,000 a year boost in rates. APL has been collecting the higher rates under bond since July 1, 1954.

PSC Chairman Lewis Robinson pointed out that APL has 15 days in which to ask the court for rehearing, and that the final determination of the case might be delayed still further by an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Should further appeal be abandoned, Robinson said, the PSC and APL officials would work out a plan for the refund. Then the PSC would receive a mandate from the state Supreme Court that the case had been decided.

He said if the Arkansas Supreme Court denies a rehearing, it possibly would be late June or early July before the PSC would be in a position to talk with the company about a refund.

By that time, the refund account — which already has reached eight million dollars — could total as much as nine or 10 million dollars.

Kefauver in New Jersey, Sees Victory

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Presidential hopeful Estes Kefauver, in an encore visit to New Jersey before tomorrow's primary, said he has gained strength during the past week and "will win all over the state."

The Tennessee senator yesterday capped his campaign for New Jersey's 36 Democratic convention votes with a one-day tour dampened somewhat by rain and fog.

In the big contest of the primary, Democrats will choose between a slate of 72 districts and at-large delegates pledged to Kefauver and an unpledged list proposed by the regular Democratic organization.

Each delegate will have half a vote at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago next August.

Before he left last Wednesday after five days of handshaking and speechmaking in New Jersey, Kefauver said he figured on capturing 16 to 20 of the district delegate spots.
